DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by
Hagenbuch '363

The patent to Hagenbuch discloses a processor 41 with comparator 115 that stores information in storage 83 and outputs the 10 highest or lowest values that are provided to a printer for review by a manager. The device samples the sensors at a maximum adjustable rate of 1/second and also has variable storage time slots in memory 83. In regard to claim 11 the patent to Hagenbuch discloses an engine monitor unit 73 that senses multiple vital signs and a machine body control unit 67 that senses production related parameters such as dump sensor 67L that senses the position of electric levers 19 and 21 as broadly recited. See figures 2A-2C and columns 4-8.
